Dear Mr. Weisberg,

You remember correctly--and that pleases me--but only partly correctly. My name is Marvin Longton and I am a Mister. We did, though, some years ago help you get that TV transcript. Probably the reason you've confused my gender is that then you dealt with my wife at that time.

You're right, the cost of POST MORTEM does present a problem--I hope you get it published.

Thank you very much for taking the time to answer my letter, especially so because, although I regret it, I cannot afford to get POST MORTEM at present.

By the way I saw your comments on the attempted escape of James Earl Ray in the Amsterdam News--these political murders have ramifications that just keep on.

With best wishes,

Marvin Longton
